

Tartan

mod: 2250
design by Antonio Farina

Inspired by the typical houses of the United Kingdom, characterized by sloping roofs, flashings and vibrant colors, Tartan is an clock that is well-suited to various types of homes. The structure, in white-painted wood, is in the form of a cottage and encloses the 'facade' whichÂ is in different shades (blue, red and green) of plaid fabric. Precisely the tartan that recalls the landscapes of the Scottish Highlands as well as the typical kilt. Battery quartz movement. A light sensor automatically turns off the cuckoo sound in the absence of light.
