

Flut

mod: 2330
design by Gianluca Minchillo

A contemporary umbrella stand in metal with a square base element on which a series of ten cones of different heights are mounted and designed to hold umbrellas, creating a harmonious movement and dynamic effect when viewed from any angle. It is not only a useful object, but also a design accessory which decorates and livens up entrances to houses, offices and buildings. There is also the possibility of combining more pieces together. Flut is available in white or black it is completely made of metal and is powder coated in black, white and acid green. It is weather resistant and can be used indoors or outdoors.
