

Iberna

mod: 2335
design by Gianluca Minchillo

Iberna is a modern clothes hanger, a furniture accessory that, thanks to its sinuous design and unique structure, is well suited to any setting or dÃ©cor. It is an interesting combination of concept and functional research, even though its design is simple it is an elaborate item, completely handmade by expert craftsmen. Every part has been created with attention and dedication, giving life to a high quality product. The structure is made of metal rods painted white, black or bronze, that stretch and twist upwards towards a central ring, from here the rods continue to stretch to different heights and angles, creating a harmonious movement and useful hooks to hang clothes or objects on.
