

Picchio

mod: 0600
design by Barbero Design

Picchio, designed by Fabrizio Barbero and Laura Anselmi in 1997, was the first modern cuckoo clock with a classic Black Forest movement, until then used only in classic German clocks. The roof is made of hand-oiled pear wood, the dial and the hands are made of photo-engraved aluminum, the round body of the watch is in painted plastic. The materials used are the most diverse, brand new and traditional to achieve an optimal result in aesthetics and functionality.

Pictures

Dimensions

