

Line

Design Eloisa Libera

Line is a wall clock in a young and carefree design ... so carefree as to 'lose' time. In fact, the numbers, in various sizes and colors, fall from the central body hanging by a thread.

Available in two chromatic versions, one with warmer colors (red, yellow and orange) and the other in colder ones (green, grey and white), Line is characterized by having a quadrant that is very simple and classic, circular and made of solid light-blue painted wood, with orange and white hands in the center, while the hours, always in painted wood, are hung in a scattered manner by invisible threads, as if suspended in mid-air.

A cheerful clock that is ideal for young surroundings or children's rooms.
